Typhoon Warning Lifted - Return to Normal Response

CWB lifted the warning for Typhoon Fitow at 08:30 on October 7 and the CEOC has returned to the ministerial response mechanism. Deputy Commander of CEOC and Deputy Minister of MOI Hsiao Chia-chi instructed that all ministries are to pay attention to CWB's "Severe Weather Advisories" and carry out various disaster rescue missions in accordance with delegated responsibilities.

CEOC especially reminded that due to continuous torrential rain over the past several days, soil is loose in the mountainous regions of central and northern Taiwan, and there is still potential for slopeland disaster, therefore the public must pay attention to safety when traveling into the mountain areas.
